I understand that the services provided through this herbal clinic are educational and supportive in nature. Herbalism is a traditional system of wellness that works with the body's natural intelligence and rhythms. The practitioner is not a licensed medical doctor and does not diagnose, treat, or prescribe for disease.

Recommendations are based on information I provide about my health, habits, and goals. I understand that the accuracy of these recommendations depends on the completeness and truthfulness of the information I share.

Responsibility for My Health

I acknowledge that I am solely responsible for my own health and wellness decisions. I agree to use my own judgment in applying any recommendations provided and to consult with a licensed healthcare provider regarding any medical concerns, changes in medication, or symptoms that arise.

I understand that herbal and natural remedies can interact with certain medications or conditions, and it is my responsibility to disclose all relevant medical information before receiving recommendations.

Risks and Reactions

I understand that while herbs are generally safe when used appropriately, individual sensitivities, allergic reactions, or unpredictable responses may occur. I agree to discontinue use of any herbal product if I experience discomfort, irritation, or adverse effects, and to notify my practitioner.

Limitation of Liability

By signing this form, I release the practitioner and the clinic from any liability for damages, injury, or loss resulting from the use or misuse of herbal products or information provided during consultations. I acknowledge that no guarantee of specific outcomes has been made.

Consent and Release

I have read and fully understand this waiver. I voluntarily choose to participate in herbal consultation and accept all responsibility for my choices. I hereby release the practitioner and associated entities from all claims arising out of or connected with my participation in these services.
